AIMIS - APPLICATION FORM

At MOSMA we believe there is a need to increase the growth of Indigenous professionals in our industry. Manitoba has a strong population of Indigenous communities with a diverse and creative heritage. These communities have individuals with great potential to express and educate future generations. To encourage this potential, MOSMA created the Audio in Media Indigenous Scholarship (AIMIS). With successful application, this scholarship offers a financial award towards tuition for the Audio in Media programme to which the applicant is accepted. It is meant to assist the student's financial budget and or compliment their funding. Our goals are to encourage artistic individuals from communities throughout Manitoba to pursue a creative career in audio and to nourish their talents so they can begin a professional career in a vibrant and challenging Creative Industry. Through these talented individuals, we hope to promote a culture that is meaningful and educational to all Canadians.

We have confidence this scholarship along with our continued collaboration with supporting organisations, will help realise our goal in fostering a strong presence of Indigenous professionals within the Audio Production Industry in Manitoba and across Canada.

Applicants must already be accepted to the Audio in Media Programme before applying. For each yearly intake there are two scholarships awarded to successful applicants: (June $2,000.00) and (July $1,000.00). See below for Submission Deadlines.*
